

Discovery Stage

new theatre for young audiences

Scribbles and the Journey Home

Performance Hosting Details

Scribbles is a new ELA-connected musical for elementary audiences by Atlanta playwright Laura King with original music by Katie Berger Wood that explores the courage it takes to face life changes, and the true meaning of home. When siblings Avery and Jesse move into a new house, they feel lost among the packing boxes—until they discover Scribbles, a playful, magical guide who transforms ordinary cardboard into extraordinary adventures. Together, the trio embarks on an imaginative journey by boat, plane, and rocket, learning that home is not just a place, but anywhere you feel safe, comfortable, and loved.

Price/Performance (Daily)*

1 Show:
$450

2 Shows:
$800

Priced for an audience of 250 without amplified voices. For higher numbers, sound support, and/or added performances, please reach out to create a custom package.

How You Can Prepare for Us

- Space needed: 15'x15' performance space (no stage needed), plus room for floor seating
- Submit a performance request and share all needed contact, venue, and parking details prior to performance date
- Send any questions to info@discoverystage.org

What to Expect from Us

- Run time: 40 minutes (additional response activity available upon request)
- One copy of Scribbles Playbook (additional copies available for added fee) & purchase link to share
- Classroom/audience guide with activities, discussion points, and connections to state standards
- A “yes space” - we encourage kind and safe interaction, expression, and engagement with our shows